

BACK TO BLACK

Louis Vuitton's signature canvas patterns have a whiff of old-world luxury about them, recalling a time of neatly stacked steamer trunks. But the brand went full-on black-ops in 2008 with the sleek Damier Graphite collection—rendering the familiar checkerboard pattern in black and grey—and tastemaking men, including a pre-mountain hat Pharrell Williams, clamored for the modern, masculine updating. Now the label is doing it again with the ink-and-shadow shades of the Monogram Eclipse collection, available in bags (backpacks, hard and soft briefcases, messengers, duffels), shoes (ankle boots, sneakers), and, of course, luggage. 1 E. 57th St., 212-758-8877; louisvuitton.com

FASHION

ACNE STUDIOS

Shop this Swedish creative collective's hipster-loved denim and minimalist ready-to-wear. 33 Greene St., 212-334-8345, 212-633-0002; acnestudios.com

ALICE + OLIVIA

The contemporary crowd can't get enough of the brand's deft mix of seasonal items and wardrobe staples. 755 Madison Ave., 646-545-2895; alicelandolivia.com

ANNE FONTAINE

This Parisian designer is famous for her essential wear-everywhere white shirt. 837 Madison Ave., 212-988-8081; annefontaine.com

BARNEYS NEW YORK

The luxury retailer returns to its original 1920s home in Chelsea with a 55,000-square-foot, five-floor flagship. 101 Seventh Ave.; barneys.com

BILLY REID

Stock up on Southern-cool staples at the CFDA favorite's West Village boutique. 94 Charles St., 646-461-6427; billyreid.com

BOTTEGA VENETA

As a precursor to the opening of its first New York Maison store, this Italian powerhouse just moved into a sprawling Madison Avenue location. 650 Madison Ave., 212-371-5511; bottegaveneta.com

BROOKS BROTHERS

Design darling Zac Posen lends expertise to classic American sportswear as the brand's new creative director. 1180 Madison Ave., 212-289-5027; brooksbrothers.com

BRUNELLO CUCINELLI

Leonardo DiCaprio and Prince William are fans of this luxury Italian label's streamlined shapes in mineral shades. 134 Greene St., 212-334-1010; brunellocucinelli.com

CANALI

The choice for leading men from the big screen to city streets, Canali specializes in made-to-measure menswear. 625 Madison Ave., 212-752-3131; canali.com

CAROLINA HERRERA

Elegant silhouettes get pops of color in the iconic designer's jewel box of a boutique. 802 Madison Ave., 212-744-2076; carolinaherrera.com

DSQUARED2

The brand's fashion-forward styles have appeared everywhere from Madonna's music videos to catwalks all over the globe. 402 W. Broadway, 212-966-3487; dsquared2.com

EILEEN FISHER

A pioneer within the eco-chic movement, Eileen Fisher began using organic cotton and natural fibers over 10 years ago. 1039 Madison Ave., 212-879-7799; eileenfisher.com

ERMENEGILDO ZEGNA

The luxury Italian label offers men's clothing, tailored suits, shoes, accessories, and fragrances. 663 Fifth Ave., 212-421-4488; zegna.com

GUCCI

Luxury Italian clothing and accessories get a twist from recently installed creative director Alessandro Michele. 725 Fifth Ave., 212-826-2600; gucci.com

HADLEIGH'S

This Dallas-based clothier recently unveiled its first-ever New York City location. 989 Madison Ave., 646-964-5211; hadleighs.com

JIMMY CHOO

Choo's sky-high strappy sandals may be the most recognizable, but the brand's handbags and leather goods are just as coveted. 645 Fifth