FABRIK announce debut single, 'Origami', to be released on 20th March.

FABRIK are to release their debut single, 'Origami', on Monday 20th March. The download-only track precedes the band's debut album, Hinterland, due for release later this year.

A fresh-sounding mix of trip-hop and psychedelia, 'Origami' was recorded by the band at their studio. Emerging producer Craig Davis mixed and co-produced the track.

Vocalist and lyricist Hayley Trower explains that the lyrics were inspired by the cultivation of intelligence: "The brain crumples and folds like paper as we learn, creating ridges and valleys for thoughts to develop."

"It was the first track we worked on for the album" says guitarist Shaun Hand, "we were all instantly fired-up by the possibilities it suggested, so it's a fitting choice for first single."

Notes for editors:

FABRIK are a four-piece whose music encompasses elements of trip-hop, electronica, rock and psychedelia; creating music with a distinct, cinematic flavour.

The name was chosen because it's German for 'factory' and the band are fans of the iconic record label of the same name.

Although hailing from Birmingham, FABRIK were also inspired by their travels through Europe and liked the idea of embracing a European identity – the initial concept behind their forthcoming debut album was to create a soundtrack for a road-trip across mainland Europe.
